

From: Lonnie Mullenix
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 11/16/01 2:51pm
Subject: Microsoft's monopoly.

It is very interesting to see that Microsoft is still controlling the outcome to their anti-trust case.

Even if a person wants to Special Order a computer from Compaq, you have to take a version of Windows as the operating system.

When someone in the government can explain WHY Microsoft has the power to dictate what operating system I can get on a NEW COMPUTER and why Microsoft is the only supported OS for nearly all ISPs and then make me believe that Microsoft DOES NOT have a monopoly!

As an American consumer, I should be able to walk into ANY computer store and buy a computer with ANY OPERATING SYSTEM I WANT, pre-installed. Until that day comes, you will never convince me that the government is doing anything to prevent Microsoft from perpetuating their current monopoly in the computer industry. And as such, keeps my opinion of government lawyers and judges pretty much where it has always been.

PAWNS OF BIG BUSINESS WITH TOTAL DISREGARD FOR THE AMERICAN WORKING MAN.

Thanks,

Lonnie

Well, Windows Got Me Again. Need new address book entries, etc.